Stay on top of new Environment, Health and Safety (EHS) laws and policies

Early warning

- Monitoring reports give you advance warning of upcoming policies and regulations that will impact your business

Extensive global coverage

- Enhesa's monitoring service covers over 100 countries and states worldwide and is continuously expanding to meet the needs of our clients
- Enhesa maintains a large database of global regulatory information including links to legislation. Currently, our knowledge base contains over 30,000 regulatory texts

Relevance to your business

- Monitoring reports are tailored to your business – we give you the critical information you need to make smart business decisions and evaluate real business risks
- Each monitoring report identifies and summarizes each initiative as it evolves, analyses how it will impact your business and suggests appropriate responses
- Periodic conference calls can be held to discuss regulatory developments critical to your business

Covering Operations and Products

- Monitoring reports cover EHS issues affecting industrial and commercial operations
- Enhesa also offers monitoring for product-related environmental requirements – especially useful for countries where a company markets its products but does not have local operations

Easy accessibility for all users

- The information is easily accessible. Our database is available 24/7 through a secure internet portal
- Monthly email alerts on topics that impact your business the most are sent to the key decision makers in your organization
- All of our monitoring reports are provided in English and are also available in the local language, allowing both corporate staff and local staff to access the same information in their own language

Comprehensive, detailed and standardized

- The monitoring reports contain 3 key components:
 - Abstract: a brief summary of the new development
 - Analysis: provides more detailed information and link to the original text
 - Business impact: identifies how the development will affect your business and what you need to do to stay in compliance

What does Enhesa bring to you?
